MUSEUM ART EXHIBIT TO CLOSE

Saturday, April 18, is the final day to see two art exhibitions at the Alaska State Museum. The shows feature the work of Stron Softi, from Ketchikan, an artist who is pushing the boundaries of Northwest Coast Native art; and Jeremy Kane, of Juneau, who teaches ceramics at the University of Alaska Southeast.

Kane comments on folksy, blue-collar Americana through his colorful ceramic creations. Softi won the top award in the recent "All Alaska Juried Exhibition," the state's most prestigious art competition.

The museum is open 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday. Admission is three dollars. Visitors 18 and under are admitted free of charge. For further information please call 465-2901.
